ECO4ALL COST Action CA22124

ACHIEVEMENTS AND HIGHLIGHTS 2026

Grant Period 3 (2025/2026) was the most intensive year of the ECO4ALL COST Action (CA22124) so far. An international conference in Rome, two Training Schools, six in-person Management Committee, Core Group and Working Group meetings, seven webinars and the third PhD Student Workshop brought together researchers, policymakers, businesses and consumer organisations around one question: how to make the circular economy work for consumers.

This newsletter presents the main achievements of the year: events and meetings, grants awarded, new books and publications, and the people who made them possible.

EDITORIAL

A network that delivers: more activities, more partners, more young researchers

In its third year, ECO4ALL moved from building the network to producing and sharing results. Each event of the period was designed around the Action's deliverables and around the people who will use them: researchers, public authorities, businesses, consumer organisations and the young scientists who will carry the work forward.

The year began with the WG2 meeting in Lausanne and the 2nd Training School in Belgrade, both co-organised with COST Action LIAISE (CA22110). In March, Rome hosted three ECO4ALL events in one week: the WG3 meeting, the International Conference and the first Management Committee meeting of GP3. The summer brought the WG4 meeting and the 3rd Training School in Thessaloniki and the Core Group meeting in Dubrovnik, followed in September by the joint ECO4ALL–LIAISE Working Groups meeting in Valletta.

Throughout the year, the webinar series kept the whole network connected: seven online sessions, most of them with around or above 100 participants, gave a voice to ministries, practitioners, grant winners and early-career researchers. The year closed with the 3rd PhD Student Workshop and with the launch of the calls for the Final International Conference in Chișinău.
